Save events

Streaming & hybrid events are an interesting alternative not just during the contact restrictions made necessary by the coronavirus.

We have just the rooms that you need to hold safe meetings or events these days. Our technical facilities offer you the possibility to take your event to your customers, employees or partners either through streaming or in the form of a hybrid event.

Choose from six package offers:

- > Incl. basic technical setup
- > Priced by room and number of online participants

With hybrid events, you can welcome some of your guests to the Stadthalle and simultaneously connect with a theoretically unlimited number of participants by Internet – in HD quality. Streaming events only take place on the Internet, without guests attending in the Stadthalle.

Impress your worldwide audience with professionally run live streams from the breathtaking atmosphere of the Historische Stadthalle – either on open platforms such as YouTube and Facebook or in a password-protected area which is only accessible to registered participants.

The scope for designing live streams is immense. From interactive communication between presenters and viewers to presentations and lectures, there are a whole host of options. Speaking rights can be given to everyone or only a select group of people. Modules such as chat functions, the integration of teleconferencing programs like Microsoft Teams, password-protected areas or an option to record your event can all be added. Anything is possible.

Your guests working from home or in their offices should feel as much a part of what is going on as the participants in the Stadthalle. A show act during a coffee break, a virtual guided tour of the building or an associated exhibition can just fit the bill. Our caterers, Culinaria Gastronomie, can even supply online guests with a "snack pack" for the coffee break.

We would be delighted to prepare an offer that fits your needs.
